

SANTANDER WITH CHILDREN

he famous writer Josefina Aldecoa used to say that it should be obliged to get into Santander by the sea.

And that is so because both the sea and the beautiful bay of Santander imbue the whole life of our city. If, as scientists claim, the life came up from the ocean 4.000 years ago, the people from Santander are still closely linked by an imaginary umbilical cord to it.

It is important to love the sea. Coming to Santander with children is to grant them with childhood memories of a salty smell, seashells at the seashore, games with the waves, sand and castles and little fishes swimming around your feet.

Children can also enjoy of the great green oasis beside the infinite range of blue colours reflected in the sea. This represents the rich cultural scenery to be explored of a city that loves its traditions and an opportunity to dive into the deepest of the urban life of the modern Santander where it is a pleasure to move on feel everywhere.

Exploring the life in the intertidal zone....

I've seen a witch!!

There are a lot of "witches" in Santander, but they have no broomstick or a wizard hat. "Witch" is the popular name for these small hermit crabs that host an empty shell and use it as their house. You can find a lot of them in these puddles when the tide descends in La Maruca beach, as well as shrimps, limpets, different kind of seaweed, mayflower, winkles, mussels, little fishes... Children will love exploring this rich environment!

COASTAL INTERPRETATION CENTRE

La Maruca hosts the Coastal Heritage of Cantabria exposition, by which it shows to neighbours and visitors the characteristic features of the coast of Cantabria, its diversity in flora and fauna, the different uses given by the people and what is most important: to make aware and sensitive of the value of preserving our environment.

A TALE AT THE SEASHORE

There is also that special tale inspired in the old fishing town that Santander once was that comes along in your children's holidays.

The main characters would be brave sailors or a great whale, or maybe the inhabitants of Altamira caves, or the mythological ones living in the mountains of Cantabria such as "diabillo trenti, ojáncano or hombre pez (fishman)".

The marine breeze feeds the imagination and transports them to a world of enchantment and magic spells, adventures and tales to be enjoyed in family.

In hot days any beach of the city is a refreshing balm and the perfect place for the children to play free, explore and imagine...

Unforgettable afternoons at the seashore, making up tales with sand castles and spells, fairies guarding the lost treasures... A place called "Tale" where everything can happen.

Ummmm....It looks tasty!...

fancy an ice-cream!

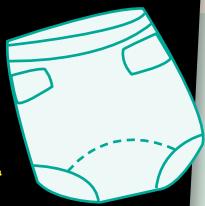

The "ice-cream tradition" in Cantabria dates back to the last decades of the 19th century and got stronger during the 20thc. Santander is one of the villages where the ice-cream business strongly established and the image of ice-cream carts came to be typical to sell "mantecados" ice-cream. The very famous ice-cream makers were originally from Pas Valley, the same place where "sobaos" and "quesadas" (typical pastry) during the winter and ice-cream in summer. The legend has it that the first ice-cream was made out of cheese. You will find famous of these ice-cream shops spread all over Santander, the favourite of the people in summer but also in winter.

CYCLING IN THE CITY

Riding a bike with children is a good plan to practice sport. You can draw your own route and ride along the more than 18 km of cycle lane. Here you have some funny routes to enjoy.

- One of the most beautiful and special landscapes appears riding through Los Peligros beach to get to La Magdalena court where you can stare at the spectacular landscape while taking a breath to have a snack or visiting the penguins and sea lions in the mini-zoo. The Peninsula of La Magdalena is a place to explore and find the secret lake, to swing in the park and to visit the Palace of King Alfonso XIII.
- Las Llamas Park keeps more than 40 species of trees, a wide range of birds and a little bridge that crosses a brook. All these to be discovered cycling along the very safe lane, since there is no traffic road at all.
- "La Virgen del Mar" hosts the chapel that shelters the Patron Saint image of Santander. The place is full of little paths to enjoy the environment. Close to the settlement of La Virgen del Mar you can find a rugby field, swings for children, a zip wire and a cafe. Don't forget taking your swimsuits and sun lotion with you in case you feel like having a bath in one of the most singular and beautiful beached of Santander.

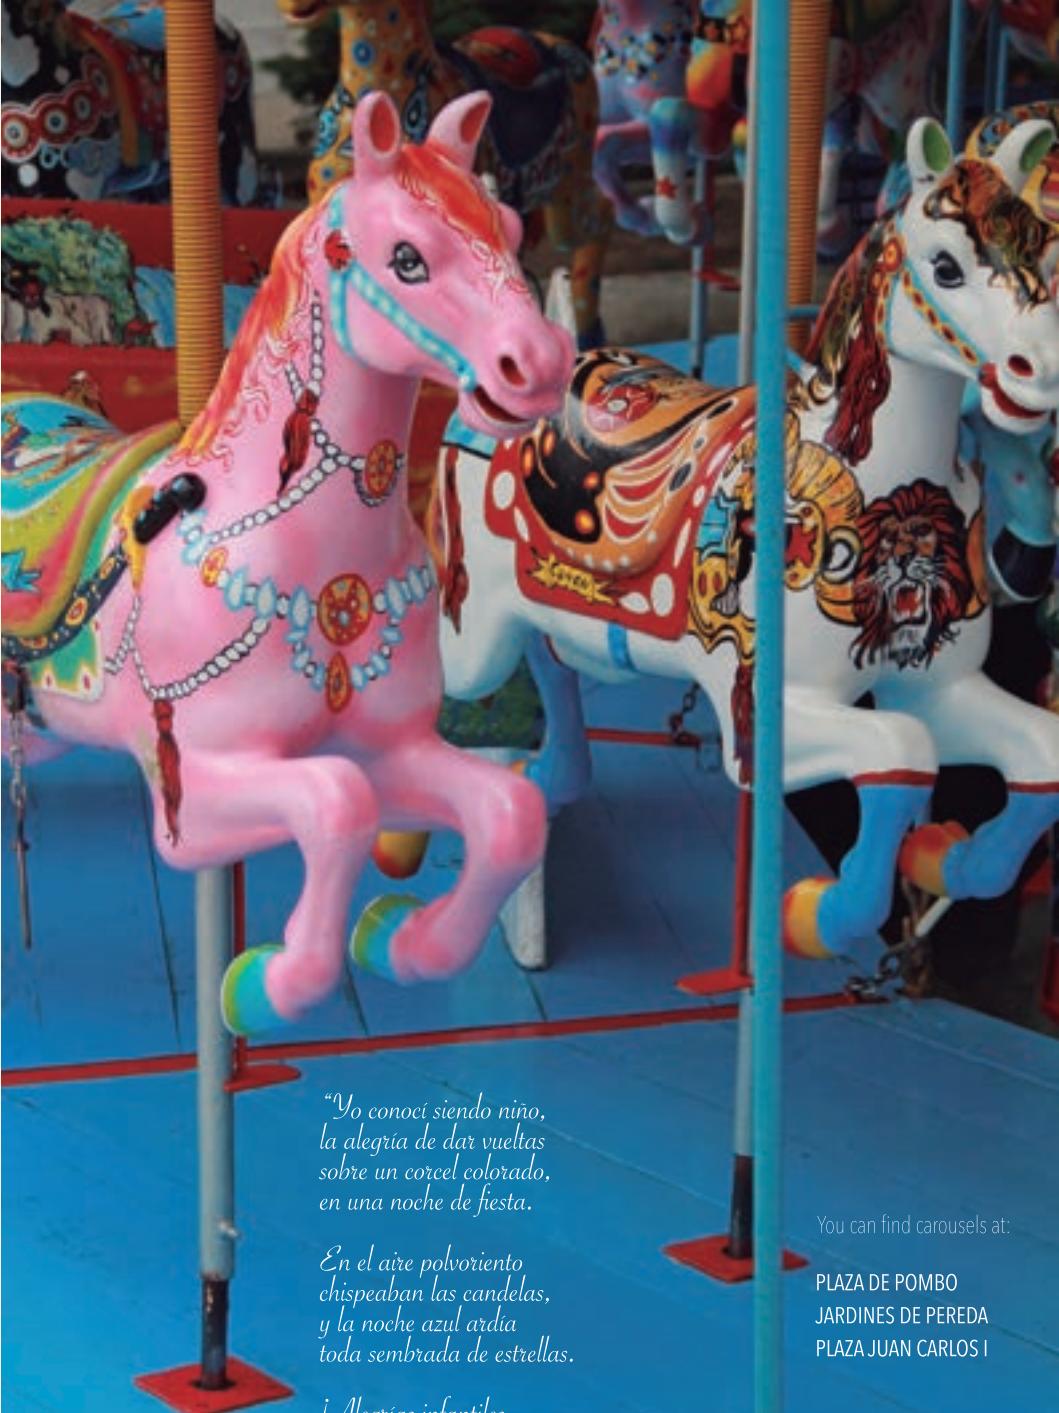

BIKE RENTING

Remember that you have the TUS BIC service, the public service to rent bicycles for adults and offers parking stations along the whole lane.

LIKE A FISH SWIMMING IN A STREAM

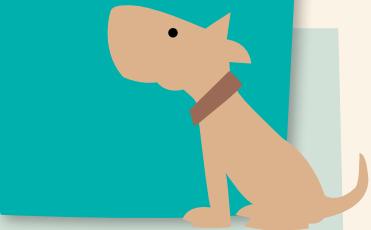

Santander has been awarded several times for the actions taken to improve the accessibility of the city by the City Council.

The most important beaches of the city are accessible for these people with reduced mobility, except Los Molinucos, Mataleñas, El Bocal and La Maruca.

Los Peligros Beach has also special parking places, changing rooms and adapted toilets for disabled people. There are also special amphibious vehicles and Red Cross staff who help them to take a bath in the sea. Some of these amphibious chairs are in both beached of El Sardinero at the request of people's needs, as well as the Red Cross telephone (942 273 661) in case of special aid.

My daughter doesn't separate from her dog...

could we take our pet to the beach?

The City Council's ordinance regarding pets reminds us that walking or staying with dogs or other pets in the beach is not allowed out of the established timetable or places. There are several leisure places for dogs such as Nueva Montaña Park, Ciriego's forest, La Teja Park, Cabo Mayor, Reina Victoria and Morales Park. Obviously, guide dogs have free access across town and in the beaches. Obviously, guide dogs have free access across town and in the beaches.

PAINTING IN THE BEACH...

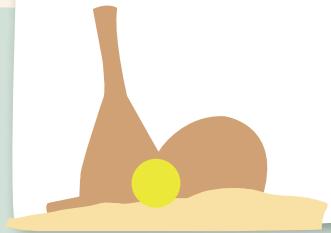

SO COOL!

During summer time there are a lot of free activities for children organised by the council in some of the most popular beaches of Santander, Los Peligros and El Sardinero. Among others, children can practice sports, make handicrafts, a lot of games to play or environmental education chats.

Children can choose among nearly 60 different activities developed in the beach, the best open-air park for them, cared by specialised supervisors from 11:00 to 18:00. They can choose among playing sports, playing with balloons, finger painting, story teller, traditional games, puppets, a loan service of books or environmental activities.

In the beaches of Santander...

it is a "must" to play paddles

You can see people paying "paddles" in any beach of Santander. It is a traditional game based on the good rapport of partners to make it beautiful and interesting.

Players must keep the ball up without falling to the sand, keeping track of the number of hits they play only touching twice consecutively the most. This is more a collaborative than a competitive game. There are special sites reserved to play paddles in the beaches of El Camello, La Concha, El Sardinero and Piquío.

MOUSE ON BOARD!

If your kid has already lost a tooth in Santander, maybe he finds some ticket or any present under the pillow in the morning.

It might be due to this delicious cheeses of the region that make "Ratoncito Pérez" (Little Mouse Pérez) feel so good when he comes to deliver his presents to the children of Santander.

He also loves to see the boats coming and going and watching the burden being loaded and unloaded from the ships. From time to time he manages to get into the ships as a stow-away to enjoy with some kids who wanted to go with him.

MARITIME MUSEUM OF THE CANTABRIC SEA

I AM HUNGRY!!

One of the most attractive aspects of Santander as a city is its size that favours the family life. Despite being in any point of the city the catering area is always very near, so that you can attend the "help call" of your children.

The cantabric cuisine is well known for the use of first quality ingredients: vegetables, fish, meat... you just have to dive into the popular and beautiful Esperanza Market to confirm it. It is very easy to find delicious legume soups or a tasty grilled fish for your kids in any restaurant of Santander.

If you are close to El Sardinero beach you can easily order some take away food and have a picnic in the beach: sandwiches, pizzas, hamburgers, hot dogs. You can also find this fast food in the city centre.

Special winter delights are the chestnut, roasted in the typical train-shape roasters that you can find spread all across the city, and hot chocolate with "churros" to taste in any season to warm up the chilly afternoons.

I need this sticker of yours....

I swap you one !!

If you are lucky you may find these stickers you need to complete your album. You just have to go any Sunday morning to Pombo Square where a lot of children meet to swap stickers near the carousel.

Years and years in the sea and still can't swim.

FROM TODAY, I AM A SURFER

In the 1960's arrived the first surfing board to Santander and since then the practice of this sport has been growing as much in Spain as in the rest of the world.

Kids begin to play with the waves at a very short age. The recommended to begin practising surf is around 6 years old. Surfing is closely linked to nature sport. It encourages concentration, balance and coordination as well as to be extremely funny! It can be practised during the whole year and there are some schools in Santander to learn "to read the waves" and play with them.

Santander has a wide range of beaches, like small coves such as Molinucos, wide and sandy like El Sardinero, rocky like La Maruca, solitary like Rosamunda... but if you are looking for a safe beach with smooth waves just visit those which are sheltered by the bay: Los Peligros, La Magdalena and Bikini.

LA MAGDALENA PENINSULA, A MAGIC PLACE...

Imagine there is a place, nearly an island that would have a big park with swings, sledges, climbing pyramids, trampoline, towers, seesaws and a huge sledge to slide you down to the beach where you can swim, dive, play with the sand...

Imagine there would be penguins, seals and sea lions catching fishes while pleasantly swim near a mermaid...
Imagine there would be also a forest full of huge trees and paths along, where you can find animals, mushrooms, elves and flowers sculpted in old trunks...

And imagine, that at the very end of this path, up in the cliffs surrounding this place, there would be a palace, like those in the tales, with a tower to watch the ships arriving at the horizon.... Ship ahoy!!!!

Parque de la naturaleza de Cabárceno (15 km from Santander)

The Nature Park of Cabárceno is not a conventional zoo. Animal life in the park is carried out in the most open and natural environment. Currently the park's facilities are among the best valued by the organizations in charge of the surveillance and security of wild animal's life.

The Nature Park of Cabárceno came up with educational, cultural, scientific and leisure goals and has come to be one of the most important tourist attractions in the north of Spain.

More than 20km of roads will drive you through the wonderful canyons, peaceful lakes and suggesting rocky figures, to the different areas in which bears, cheetahs, tigers, lions, hippos, wolves, elephants, gorillas, sea lions, an exhibition of birds of prey... live.

Santillana del Mar/ Altamira Museum (30km from Santander)

Walking across the cobbled streets of Santillana del Mar and enjoying of its medieval architecture is the first stage of this trip which for sure will leave a mark on the memories of your children when tasting the milk with the typical sponge cake of the place. Ummmmm.... What a sweet beginning!

In this municipality of Santillana del Mar you can visit Altamira Museum 2 km far.

The museum offers its permanent exhibition suitable for all ages and visits to the Neo-cave, an accurate copy of the original one (in the UNESCO's Human Heritage list) that shows how Altamira cave exactly was in the Palaeolithic ages. It also hosts workshops to learn more about hunting and harvesting, the significance of fire, painting with natural pigments, etc.

Once every year the bisons of Altamira recover their original light: there is a special day in mid-May called "The Museums' Day" to visit the Neo-cave and admire the art of Altamira in an atmosphere of marrow candles as in the old ages.

Phn: 942 818 815

Besides many other important sites with cave paintings, Cantabria hosts caves full of wonderful geological shapes such as "El Soplao" Cave (85 km from Santander).

Fuente Dé cable car

(129km from Santander)

This is a longer trip but it is worthy to get into the awesome canyon that will drive us to the mountain range of "Picos de Europa" discovering on the way the magnificent landscapes that host deers, eagles or bears that live in the mountains of the region of Liébana.

The historical and cultural heritage of Liébana is also very interesting: the Mozarabic style church in Lebeña, the roman style monastery of Piasca or the Monastery of Santo Toribio de Liébana that is, together with Jerusalem, Rome and Santiago de Compostela one of the four sacred places to go on Cristian pilgrimage.

If you don't have fear of heights, getting on the cable car from Fuente Dé to Picos de Europa viewpoint will be the "golden medal" to your intrepid tour.
